

I think this matter is about choice. I never thought I would be the one paying for xm radio but once I listened and heard the clarity along with all the options at my fingertips. I travel up and down the highway from one city to the next and back so it's very important for me to know the situation of the weather and traffic before hand. This saves me time as well as fuel. Dealing with fuel the fuel issues of today, this should be a welcomed that there's a radio traveling up and down the highway that will help with cutting down on pollution to the big cities just by not sitting in traffic for long periods of time. This is my point. I need to know what's going on before I get to a major city and this is not possible with regular radio or they just haven't made it a priority. My choice is to be able to decide what I want. I want what is not only better for me but for this great earth we live.
